NEW SPY RING FEARED IN U.K.

LONDON (AP)—The disappearance of a top secret admiralty document stirred suspicion at Scotland Yard today that a British spy ring may have struck again.

The missing paper detailed new methods of underwater warfare. It vanished from the safe of an unnamed engineering firm working under contract for the admiralty, police sources said.

The case has been handed over to a special anti-spy task force of intelligence officers, created since the recent British spy trial.

At this trial, five Soviet agents were sentenced to lengthy jail terms for stealing secrets.

Lumby School Pictured As 'Morass' By Witness

By DOUG PECK
Courier Staff Writer

VERNON (Staff)—The chief witness of a board of reference hearing, which could precipitate a full-scale inquiry into the teaching administration of the Charles Bloom junior-senior high school in Lumby, testified today that he had seen vice-principal John Patrick Hughes holding a distraught girl student to a wall against her will, and claimed that the school has been in an administrative "morass" for more than a year.

Robert Frederick Sheward, fortyish, displaying utter composure, also said "my suspension is a small thing compared to (the need for) cleaning up the mess in that school."

The board was formed after Sheward appealed his suspension, effective March 13, for bringing false charges against the vice-principal and undermining school administration.

The hearing has resolved itself into an examination of Hughes' character, particularly his relations with teenage girl students.

RULED OUT

Principal Gregory Dickson's character was ruled out as an issue of the inquiry.

In a question put to him by board chairman Harold W. Tupper, of Vancouver, Sheward said that, in early January of this year, he had come unexpectedly on Hughes holding Darlene Collison against a wall, with his hands under her sweater or blouse. "I can't remember which."

He said she looked terribly distraught, "and I felt like clobbering him (Hughes)." But he did not at the time, though he reported the incident later to Dickson and school district superintendent Floyd Irwin.

On the stand earlier, Miss Collison said nothing about the alleged incident, and Sheward had not been cross-examined on the evidence at press time by counsel Harold Wilson, of Vancouver, acting for Hughes and Dickson.

Fingerprint In Police Files Closes Out '49 Coast Kidnap

VANCOUVER (CP)—The case of a 12-year-old kidnapping has been finally closed because of a latent fingerprint sitting in police files.

Between Jan. 5 and Jan. 12, 1949, engraver Ernest Conduit, then 66, was held chained to a bed while his abductors demanded that he make them a plate for counterfeiting $20 bills.

The fingerprint was that of William Pankowe, 35, who pleaded guilty Tuesday to taking part in the kidnapping.

His brother Paul, 31, was arrested later in 1949 and sentenced to two years. Police then issued a warrant for the arrest of William.

The fingerprint was found on a dish in the suburban Dunbar home where Conduit, who died in Toronto six years ago, was held. Police could not identify it.

HUNTERS LURED TO NELSON AFTER SASQUATCH STORIES

NELSON (CP)—Nelson Chamber of Commerce has received enquiries from hunters in Montana and California after hearing stories of Sasquatch roaming the hills in this area.

The report emanated from local hunter John Bringsil, who last summer claimed to have spotted the mysterious and elusive Sasquatch in the hills six miles northeast of here.

He says he has also received a few enquiries from hunters in the United States.

Light Snow-Fall Blankets Peaks Surrounding Kelowna

Two-tenths inches of rain fell on Kelowna Tuesday night as a light blanket of snow covered surrounding peaks.

Temperatures for the most part remained steady at 40 degrees. Department of Agriculture's horticultural branch reported Glenmore orchard temperature at 39.4, with East Kelowna about two degrees warmer.

Snowfall at higher altitudes is not believed to be interfering with highway travel. Although two inches of snow was reported in Hope overnight, a department spokesman in Kelowna said the fall was "not very large."

'UNDER CLOUD'

Among other things, Sheward made these claims:

That Dickson had caused a teacher to leave "under a cloud" in the last two years.

That relations between the principal and vice-principal were "extremely" unhealthy.

That five students, at least two of them boys, had complained to him in a year over Hughes' relations with girl students.

Labor Sets 'Test Case'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Labor is girding for a court battle against the provincial government's new labor legislation prohibiting political contributions from union dues collected by payroll checkoff.

A labor official said Tuesday the 620-man Local 16-604 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union (OCA) will be the legal "guinea pig" in the test case. Involved will be the check-off rights of almost 200,000 trade unionists in the province, who now have union dues running into millions of dollars a year deducted from their pay cheques by the companies they work for.

WEATHER

Cloudy, with frequent sunny periods today and Thursday. Afternoon rain showers occasionally mixed with snow, at higher levels. Little change in temperature. Light winds.

Low tonight and high Thursday, at Kelowna, 30 and 60. Temperatures recorded Tuesday, 40 and 51, with .02 inches rain.

'Ought To Hang Myself' Eichmann Told Captors

JERUSALEM (CP)—Adolf Eichmann conceded in a tape-recorded confession played here today that he could not claim he had clean hands in the murder of millions of Jews by the Nazis.

"Perhaps I ought to hang myself in public in order that all the anti-semites in the world should have the terrible character of these events emphasized to them," said the man on trial for the murder of 6,000,000 Jews.

An electrified crowd heard Eichmann's recorded voice declare: "I know I may face a death sentence. I cannot claim mercy because I am not deserving of it."

Still Unconscious

Patricia Marie Tillapaugh remains unconscious in Vancouver General Hospital, according to information received here by her mother, Mrs. A. C. Tillapaugh.

The three-year-old Fitzpatrick Rd. girl was flown to the coast Sunday, after being struck by a car on Highway 97 Saturday afternoon.

She is understood to be suffering from a skull fracture and broken leg.

BUMPER CROP

Despite the low temperatures of recent weeks, a bumper cherry crop has been forecast. W. F. Morton, of the horticultural branch, said "there is a very heavy blossom potential."

He said that even considering the number of black cherries from face level down, there are "all kinds of good ones." Worst hit are the Bings, a non-recommended variety. Less damage has been suffered by Lambert cherries.

"We're not out of the bush 'till the middle of May," he added.

That he has more "rotten information" about the school administration.

That he had been threatened with "law suits and jail" over the issue at hand.

That he informed Mr. Irwin four times in the last eight months of facts relating to school conditions, and that he had told an earlier witness that there was considerable drunkenness among the teaching staff and he didn't want any part of it.

The inquiry will probably end today after three full days of hearings, most of them conducted before packed galleries in the court house here.

KENNEDY TELLS KHRUSHCHEV:

'Stay Out—Or A Showdown'

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Kennedy has bluntly warned Soviet Premier Khrushchev to keep out of the Cuban fight or face the prospects of a Caribbean showdown with American troops.

In a diplomatic exchange bristling with threats and challenges, Kennedy Tuesday night threw his moral support behind the Cuban rebels and rejected Khrushchev's demand that he attempt to halt the invasion.

Stating again that the U.S. has no intention of military intervention in the Cuban battle, Kennedy said nevertheless that Americans do not conceal their admiration for Cuban "patriots" who are trying to overthrow Fidel Castro.

take no action to stifle the spirit of liberty."

Khrushchev had warned that if the invasion is not stopped, "we shall render the Cuban people and their government all necessary assistance in beating back the armed attack on Cuba."

PREMIER KHRUSHCHEV ... a threat

Kennedy shot back: "In the event of any military intervention by outside force, we will immediately honor our obligations under the Inter-American (Latin) system to protect this hemisphere against external aggression."

To qualified Western observers, stationed in Washington, the atmosphere between the U.S. and Russia reminded them of the cold war fury that followed discovery of an American—2 spy plane in Russia and ended in the shattered summit conference in Paris last year.

COLD WAR RETURNS

The cold war had returned with all its fury. Some elements were seen in the sudden cancellation by Prince Souvanna Phouma of a scheduled one-day visit to confer with State Secretary Dean Rusk and Kennedy.

The Laotian neutralist prince had delayed his Russian departure by one day in order to confer with Khrushchev at his Sochi Black Sea resort. Rusk said he would be giving a speech in Georgia on the projected new arrival date and asked the prince to come to Washington after he had completed all his Russian meetings.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY ... a warning

The prince said he wanted to get back to Laos. The meeting in Washington was off.

Meanwhile, reports from the Cuban front continued to be vague and somewhat contradictory. American sources suggested the commando-type invasion is still in an early and critical stage. Castro's forces were reported using Russian-made tanks and planes to hit back at the rebels.

Khrushchev accused the U.S. of plotting and arming the invasion and warned Kennedy that a small war can produce a chain reaction throughout the world.

Kennedy said he hoped Khrushchev wasn't using the Cuba situation as a "pretext" to inflame other parts of the world.

Papers Split On US Role

LONDON (CP)—British newspapers today are split sharply on the Cuban invasion and the American role in the situation.

The Scotsman (independent) refers to the invasion as a "gross mistake" by President Kennedy, while the Daily Mail (Conservative) says if Cuba was lost to the Communists "it would be an irreparable disaster to free men."

The influential Guardian of Manchester argues that even if Castro has become a "Communist stooge"—an assertion that rested mainly on the evidence of Cuban exiles anxious for American support—"that is no justification for trying to remove him by force."

U.K. Asks Reds For Cease-Fire

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain today proposed to Russia that a request for an immediate cease-fire in Laos should be issued Thursday.

Foreign Secretary Lord Home said Britain also proposed that the international commission should be reconvened, sent to New Delhi and from there to Laos to verify the cease-fire.

A 14-power conference on Laos should then meet May 5. Lord Home said the government set the highest importance on obtaining the earliest possible cease-fire.

First Phase Is Complete

MIAMI (AP)—Invasion forces have linked up with guerrillas in the Escambray Mountains of central Cuba and completed the first phase of their drive to topple Fidel Castro, Cuban exiles reported today.

Rebel planes struck at Havana and Cuban air force headquarters.

Cuba's radio said four planes were shot down, one a United States military aircraft piloted by an American who was killed.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa told the United Nations: "This is another proof of the direct participation of the U.S. government in its mercenary action against Cuba."

Cuba Accused

WASHINGTON (AP)—The state department accused the Cuban government today of executing two U.S. citizens without fair trial, in violation of "elementary standards of justice practiced by civilized nations over the world."

The department also sought new assurances of safety for U.S. citizens in Cuba, but reported a communications blackout had cut the normal diplomatic channels to Havana.

It noted press reports of arrests of a number of Americans, including news correspondents,

Vote Seen By Members Later Today

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The Soviet bloc today pressed its United Nations demand that the United States be condemned as an aggressor against Cuba.

Speaking in the 99-country political committee, the foreign minister of White Russia, Kuzma Kiselev, charged that the U.S. is waging undeclared war against Fidel Castro's government.

Committee chairman Karel Kurka told reporters he hopes for a vote late today on four resolutions before the committee.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa told the committee he had received word from Havana that Castro's forces had shot down a military plane piloted by an American and that his body was in possession of the Castro government. He said the plane had dropped a number of bombs before it was brought down.

"This is another proof," he said, "of the direct participation by the U.S. government in its mercenary action against Cuba."

Kiselev told the committee that President Kennedy, in a note to Premier Khrushchev, said the United States would not intervene in the Cuban conflict. But the president's words are contradicted by his deeds.

The four resolutions range from the Soviet condemnation proposal to a Latin-American call for a negotiated settlement.

The Soviet proposal, introduced Tuesday night by Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin after a new assault on the U.S. in the assembly's 99-nation political committee, calls for cessation of all assistance to the forces invading Cuba and urges UN members to give aid to Fidel Castro.

The Latin-American resolution was expected to win wide support from member states openly concerned over President Kennedy's warning to Soviet Premier Khrushchev that the United States would take action if the Russians intervene militarily in Cuba.

Kennedy's warning was read to the committee by chief U.S. delegate, Adlai E. Stevenson, who delivered a blistering attack on the Castro government and rejected its charges against the U.S.

Board Sees New Floor

ENDERBY (Correspondent)—The regular meeting of Enderby Memorial Hospital board was held at the nurses' dining room at the hospital to inspect the new cement flooring in the basement.

Robert Simpson of Inland Natural Gas Co. attended and reported on costs and advantages of using gas for heating and hot water. His proposed plan would be slightly higher than the present system used, but would be offset by cheaper maintenance and greater convenience.

No definite action in this regard has been taken by the board.

CLUB POLICY

S. West, of Enderby Cribbage Club, stated that the policy of the club was that at the end of the season they donated all funds by purchasing some useful article for the hospital valued at $30. The doctors suggested they purchase an easily portable table for taking portable equipment around the wards.

President John Pritchard reported he had received a cooperative letter from the matron of Kelowna General Hospital and that final arrangements will be made between the matrons of Kelowna and Enderby hospitals for a proposed refresher course.

Mr. Pritchard was given authority to accept the lowest tender for lighting of a new basement room.

NOW IN THIRD DAY

Public Hearing Expected To Hear 30 Witnesses

VERNON (Staff) — Public hearing of an appeal by former Lumby high school teacher Robert F. Sheward against dismissal may stretch into three full days here and include testimony of more than 30 witnesses.

The board opened a public hearing Monday to investigate the appeal.

Sheward was suspended March 13, on the grounds that he brought false charges against vice-principal John P. Hughes, and that he attempted to undermine the administration of the school.

But, so far, through two full days of testimony, including an evening session Tuesday, that matter of the suspension as such has not been an issue.

Most of the evidence to date concerns the character of Mr. Hughes, whom evidence disclosed had been conducting a running battle with Sheward over authority since Hughes took over the executive position in September, 1959.

REFERENCE BOARD

The reference board, appointed under the provisions of the Public Schools Act, is composed of Harold W. Tupper, chairman, a Vancouver lawyer; Ian Boyd, also of Vancouver, representing the B.C. Teachers' Federation; and Frank Venables, of Oliver, nominee of the B.C. School Trustees' Association.

Appearing for Hughes and school principal Gregor Dickson, also named in the allegations by Sheward, is Harold Wilson, a Vancouver barrister. Burnaby lawyer John K. Davis is appearing for Sheward, while John Kidston, of Vernon, is representing Vernon School District No. 22, in which the Lumby school is located.

Much of the inquiry has been a series of lunges and ripostes between Davis and Wilson, who are displaying masterful courtroom technique.

The hearing started in camera, but a decision by the chairman threw it open to the public. Since then, the gallery has increased until by late Tuesday it was thronged with more than 100 spectators, including students, parents and other observers.

Evidence to date has been focused on the character of Hughes.

MINOR CLIMAX

A minor climax of the case came when Mr. Davis suggested "the entire administration of the Charles Bloom school should be investigated in the interests of truth."

The statement followed the board's ruling that Mr. Dickson's character was not an issue in the hearing.

Many of the witnesses were students or ex-students, four of them appearing on behalf of Hughes and Dickson.

Aged 14 to about 23, some of them stammering, some almost speechless, others a trifle arrogant, but all obviously a little uncertain, they told a story which made a confusing pattern of students-teachers-parents and school administrative procedures.

Evidence of former student Edna Schuler, of Lumby, disclosed that Hughes had taken her about the waist and held her hand, asking, "let's dance," while the pair were developing prints in a school darkroom on a late afternoon in December, 1959.

'ROYAL BUMPS'

She also said Hughes had offered to kiss her and give her the "royal bumps" on the occasion of her birthday, but she refused both invitations.

Other evidence included observation by former high school janitor Harold Cox that he had seen Hughes put his arm around a girl student and pinch her, while she was walking with him down a crowded hallway.

Evidence revealed that Cox had resigned later, after a dispute with the principal.

On many other occasions, young witnesses testified, they had seen Hughes put his arm around, or on, the shoulders of girl students.

Evidence was reduced which showed that Hughes had playfully chased a girl down a corridor on one occasion, but had not caught her.

Mr. Dickson's character was an issue only once in admitted evidence, in a statement by student Alfreda Hinz, 18, of Lumby, who said he had entered a room, thrown his coat open, and hitched up his trousers. Miss Hinz said Dickson "terrified her" but would not elaborate further.

ENERGETIC TEACHER

Several school district officials, like superintendent of schools Floyd Irwin, said Hughes was an energetic teacher against whom they had never received a serious complaint. Dickson also gave Hughes' character a clean bill of health.

Several students did likewise, though some also said he did not always act the way they expected a teacher to act. They did not elaborate, either.

A casual bit of evidence which came from former student Donna Cornell, of Kamloops, disclosed that while she had seen Hughes with his arm around girls' shoulders, she had also seen Sheward do the same.

In his turn on the stand, Dickson spoke out for Hughes, whom he had recommended for the vice-principal's job, and said that the only complaints he had received regarding Hughes concerned the teacher's strictness.

He displayed more than a little sarcasm when he added: "You mustn't slap the little darlings, you know."

He said that "in some instances" he felt parents were "over-protective" to their children.

In testifying, Hughes admitted to asking Edna Schuler to "dance, or some such word," in the darkroom, but said he meant nothing by it. He had not commented on Cox's charge by late Tuesday.

WITNESS EXCUSED

One witness, Mrs. George Collison, of Lumby, broke down in tears and was excused.

Some of the evidence on behalf of Sheward was given by sub-average students, one of which had been "close to" suspension on at least one occasion. In two cases, Cox, and R. W. Holmes Smith, the evidence came from men who had either resigned or had been dismissed from the Lumby school.

among students who had signed statements regarding the substance of the inquiry. In one case, a girl admitted to signing two statements, knowing one to be false.

Evidence earlier revealed that petition and counter-petition had been circulated among Lumby residents about the character of Hughes, and the quality of the school administration, in which Mr. Dickson was named.

Evidence also disclosed that Sheward had told a student in mid-February he was to be dismissed, though this was not common knowledge among the teaching staff until early March.

The inquiry today enters its final phase.

Mr. Davis said he would not have "many" more witnesses, but said he had not decided whether to call Mr. Sheward, whose allegations and appeal started it all.

The inquiry convened again today at 9 a.m.

how do you judge a man's worth?

By the amount of money he can earn — or by the measure of his service to society? If the latter, then B.C.'s dentists must stand in high regard. For B.C. is in urgent need of more dental care — and today there are far too few qualified men to meet this need.

Time, money and serious study are required to become a dentist. He must undertake at least six years of specialized university training to obtain his doctor's degree. He must also possess good judgment and a high degree of manual dexterity and digital skill. Above all, he must have a sincere interest in people and a desire to serve them.

Could you measure up to these standards? If so, write for a pamphlet called Dentistry As A Career. Dentistry will demand much from you, but it offers you greater opportunities to serve your fellow men than any other profession.

We're taking the kiddies to visit Grandma at Prince Albert. It's so easy by train, especially with CN's low family rates. Last year my husband and I went to Portugal. The next big trip we're planning is a CN package tour of Quebec. Our CN agent sees to everything for us.

When we went overseas he arranged passports, hotels, meals sightseeing tours and all our tickets and even helped us enjoy a side trip to Spain thanks to their Go Now — Pay Later Plan. I think modern trains are fun, don't you?

One Small Clause Ties School Board In Knots

By FRANK HILLIARD
Courier Staff Writer

One small clause in the Chant report on education is tying the Kelowna and District School Board in knots.

The recommendation would have grade seven pupils drop back to elementary status Sept. 1. Unfortunately, in Kelowna at least, there's no place for them to go.

Ironically the re-organization will be more difficult in this area because of a recent building program. Just as the report was released, district students were moving into new quarters at Dr. Knox High School.

Now the board is faced with the prospect of leaving elementary students in the Junior High or vacating classrooms and packing them in like sardines at Kelowna Elementary.

One of the obvious solutions would be to build extra classrooms on Central Elementary. However the province would take a dim view of such a project with rooms standing unused at Kelowna Junior High.

SOME CONFUSION

Instead the board will be forced to leave its seven students in the same building as they are now—the Junior High. If this happens there will probably be some confusion come September.

According to law the students will be entitled to shorter hours and one recess each day. In fact they will have period breaks and a day as long as every body else—five and a half hours.

Although officially non-partipantized the students will be given art and music instruction.

This situation will continue until student population builds up to the point that extra classrooms are needed.

When they are they'll be added to the elementary system thus cutting down on the number of grade seven students in Junior High.

The board feels four years may be necessary to complete the change.

In the district little serious trouble is contemplated. Presently available space is expected to accommodate the displaced grade seven students.

The grade seven change is only one of the problems the board must face before schools re-open in the fall. Many late nights and long sessions will be spent before the remainder are solved.

A verbal exchange at the last board meeting between secretary Fred MacKinnon and superintendent F. J. Orme shed some light on the subject. MacKinnon: "One thing's certain, there's no easy outs."

Orme: "It gets more and more complicated—doesn't it?"

CHAMBER SEEKS:

Overall Plan For Expansion

Kelowna Chamber of Commerce has passed a resolution that will send copies of a recommendation pressing for government action on a regional planning board in the Okanagan to three other chambers in the valley for support in kind.

The Chamber will ask Vernon's, Penticton's and Oliver's chambers to send similar resolutions to their's to the provincial government.

Executive member T. C. Tom, McLaughlin described the chamber's wish for "an overall plan for industrial and residential expansion that must be implemented very soon or our high economic stability will be hurt."

Chamber of Commerce last week unanimously endorsed the move to prevent residential encroachment into highly developed agricultural lands, the most important factor of the Okanagan's economy.

PRINCIPAL'S VIEWS

Authorities 'Realists' On Graduation Changes

Kelowna Senior High School's principal, C. A. Bruce, says he is sure the Department of Education would have stepped in and effected changes in graduating ceremonies if they had not been made on the local level.

In an interview yesterday, Mr. Bruce said the move to change the emphasis in the annual event from the ceremony to the importance of passing is a move to "reality". He said the school board and educators in the city are attempting to be realists.

To look at the graduation realistically is to realize that all students taking part in the ceremony are not participating rightfully.

"Because they haven't successfully completed their exams," he stated.

The result is that it will no longer be called a "graduation" ceremony. The name for the day of recognition will now be "awards day."

"A point students fail to appreciate is that we feel there is a need for a ceremony of some kind," principal Bruce said. He called it an "important event", and the "highlight of their school careers."

Rutland Man Dies At 59

Earl Raymond Higbee of Rutland died in Kelowna General Hospital Monday. He was 59.

Born in Burwell, Nebraska, he came to Canada with his family in 1910. He lived in Alberta for most of his life except for nine years while living at Haney.

Mr. Higbee and his mother moved from Haney to Edmonton and five years later went to Camrose.

A year later they sold their home and came to Rutland in 1957 and have been there since that time.

Funeral services will be held at the Garden Chapel Thursday at 2:30 p.m. with Rev. J. A. B. Adams officiating. Interment will follow in Kelowna Cemetery.

Mr. Higbee is survived by his mother, Mrs. Lula Sloan of Rutland, one sister, Mrs. Gertrude Iona Orydzuk of Rutland, two nieces, Wanda Orydzuk of Rutland, Mrs. Betty Grunthan of Camrose and seven nephews all of Camrose. Clarke and Bennett have been entrusted with the arrangements.

act as an adult would want them to, he believes.

Some schools have no graduation until September, when they are sure the graduates deserve it. Mr. Bruce agreed that the problem of re-emphasizing the traditional ceremony was one that extended beyond the limits of School District 23.

It is a problem all over Canada, and one that has been recognized for some time.

Mr. Bruce confessed that a number of high school students had been quite concerned over the move, but said he felt that the majority understood what is being attempted.

The changes, implemented, Mr. Bruce hopes, will lessen the "fever pitch of excitement" associated with the graduation ceremony.

Mr. Bruce has appealed to girl graduates to "exercise moderation when thinking of graduation dress."

USEFUL AFTER

He didn't include the boys, because he feels a suit is useful ful to a boy in any work he does after graduation.

Girls, he pointed out, are inclined to buy a dress that can be used on a single occasion and will be discarded later on. It means some families are hard pressed financially in an attempt to keep up the high standard of dress.

Ceremonies this year will be the first affected by the change in attitude toward this "school's farewell to the students".

Westbank Fire Area Elections

WESTBANK — The Westbank Fire Protection District held their annual meeting last week in the Westbank Community Hall, which was very well attended. L. Riley was in the chair.

The annual report and financial statement were read and passed.

Two new trustees were elected, these being F. K. Parker and A. M. Thompson.

There was considerable discussion on the matter of a new fire hall. The fire chief explained that on the average home it would hardly amount to $4 more. The meeting approved a resolution proposed by W. Smith, that the committee investigate, plans, cost and location, and report back to a general meeting in the near future.

OUTSIDE AID

The question was also brought up, as to the advisability of the fire engine leaving the district. The chairman explained the area had received outside help in the past, and that it was not left entirely unprotected.

Dudley Pritchard brought up the question of the Fire Protection District taking charge of a sewage disposal program, as suggested by the Chamber of Commerce; but the board did not consider they were in a position to handle such a project at this time, as there were other boards in the district, just as qualified under the Water Act to handle this project.

HIGHLIGHTS CONCERT

A Window On Festival

By BETHEL STEELE

Those who attended the Festival Highlights Concert last night must be well aware of the high standard of achievement which is the result of last week's festival competitions.

The final concert is the window through which we look at what has been accomplished by teachers and students in pacing one another on the road to excellence.

The pacing to excellence is the festival ideal, not marks or cups and certainly not winning. It is the endeavour that is important.

The concert last night showed much excellence. In fact I heard and saw some of the finest performances since coming to the Okanagan. The choral reading by Rutland Junior High School and Mrs. DeLong's Grade 8 choir were the only numbers I had not heard before. These were fine performances.

STAGE COMPARISONS

If the festival is to encourage endeavour then one could perhaps take exception to the means of choosing the program. And yet the program presented was good entertainment and one must admit that that is what a concert is for.

There were some paces missing last night; a few, in which only Kelowna would be interested. I am sure that had the High School symphony performed, those empty seats would have been occupied.

One cannot help but make comparisons with the Penticton facilities. The dancers were at a disadvantage here on the small stage and the lighting is a disgrace. If we must use the high school for our concerts then something should be done to improve the lighting so that we can at least see the performers.

One member of the audience said: "What a thrill to have all this wonderful talent together and what a privilege to see and hear it."

Kelowna should be proud of its City Band as it brought the Kelowna Rotary Club Shield to town for the first time in 30 years.

Our young pianists Carole Thompson and Teresa Humphreys brought Kelowna high honors as did violinist Murray Hill and Greta Rojem. Greta sang under difficulties as she had a cold. Penny Winter and Laurie Callmentl upheld the difficult Lied class and Janice Walker and Cynthia Anderson brought us the Reynolds Cup and played as a team for the last time in a festival concert.

This could be the last festival for the Lloyd dancers as they now go on to producing ballets. Their numbers were all a joy to behold, as were the Sasse and Pratten Scottish dances. William Blake in his advice to the protectors of the Royal Academy said: "Your own real greatness depends on your encouragement of the arts, and your fall will depend on their neglect and depression. Degrade first the arts if you'd mankind degrade."

We can all take his advice to heart.

Goofs On Highly Publicized Panorama Of World Sports

Two Saturdays ago the Canadian Broadcasting Commission with a great deal of ballyhoo launched its "Panorama of Sports" or at least a program with some such high-sounding title. The trouble is that on the two showings of the program to-date, the program did not live up to its propaganda.

It is difficult to understand why and how the CBC chose a dead horse for its first presentation. The opening program of the widely heralded series was a showing of the Oxford-Cambridge boat race—which had been run a week before. If there is anything that is a dead squib on TV it is a sports event when the result is known.

We understand, of course, that technical difficulties—primarily the Atlantic Ocean—made the showing of the boat race a week late. Knowing it would be a week late, why then did not the CBC run it as an ordinary program and not shunt it into the undeserved spot of opening the first showing of what had been heralded as a terrific program?

Then, again, last Saturday, the CBC goofed. It showed one of the major league ball games, live. The game was good—as far as it went. It didn't go far enough as after the CBC killed it, a grand slam home-run was hit. Undoubtedly this would have been the highlight of the game—had the viewing audience had a chance to see it. Oh! Yes, we know that time had run out and "previous commitments" forced the CBC to kill the broadcast just at the most interesting point in the game. But, surely this shows some poor planning by the CBC which apparently loves to spend the taxpayers' money and leave them completely frustrated. Surely, the CBC officials—or do they?—know that the time element of a ball game is rather uncertain. And with this in mind, surely shouldn't they have taken the trouble to remove the next "previous commitment" so their viewers could see all the game—including the thrilling homer?

This, surely, is particularly the case when the game was part of the much and long heralded sports program. This program now has two bloomers to its credit. Just about one more and the long-suffering public, with appropriate comments, will accept what has gone before as an indication of what is to come and forget all about the highly-touted "Panorama of Sports", or whatever the high-sounding and, to date, utterly false, title may be.

"Tuum Est"

In a few short weeks, the student community of your university will enter the occupational world... your sphere, the world of jobs and occupations.

Many of them will come, or have already come, to your community to ask for employment; work which will mean the difference between returning or not returning to the University of B.C. in the Fall.

Each year, the community is called upon to absorb more and more of these part-time student workers. However, each year the job opportunities shrink, the student enrollment grows, and a larger percentage of students go without jobs for the greater part of the May to September period.

There are only some eleven thousand university students seeking employment, many who leave the province or even the country. This leaves an available work force of some nine or ten thousand. The employment of these students is the concern and the responsibility of the whole community.

Most university students must make many sacrifices to attend university. Out of their summer earnings must come some 1,200 dollars in fees, expensive text books, clothing (for the most inclement time of the year), residence and board.

Most students are, in effect, mortgaging their future. It is their hope that within the span of four to seven years they will earn a degree and become worthy and contributing members of society. It is in the interests of the communities they will serve, to assist them in any way possible.

Students of the University of British Columbia are not looking for charity, they are willing and prepared to give their labor and services in return for adequate remuneration. The motto of the university, "Tuum est," can be applied to the community, "It's up to you."

Deep Snow A Big Argument For Olympics At Garibaldi

By LARRY ROSE

Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP)—The first snow of winter dusts the mountains of Garibaldi Park in late October.

By December, on the alpine pastures and mountains with such fanciful names as Black Tusk and Castle Towers, it lies crisp, even, and 12 feet deep.

With this argument, and a book full of others, the Garibaldi Olympic Development Association, formed two years ago, hopes to woo the 1968 Winter Olympic Games to an area now locked in solitude.

Seventy-five miles north of here, Whistler Mountain in Garibaldi Park is one of six Canadian sites proposed for the games.

Others in British Columbia are at Manning Park, 135 miles east of here; Revelstoke, a well-known skiing area in the western Rocky Mountains, and Rossland and Fernie, in the Kootenays of eastern B.C.

Banff-Lake Louise in Alberta is the sixth hopeful.

To develop Garibaldi for the Olympics would cost an estimated $13,000,000. Manning, already partly established for recreation, would cost $13,500,000 and Fernie, about $5,000,000 and Banff, between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. Estimates on the other two sites are not available.

TO STUDY REPORT

An engineering firm has studied all sites and its report will be considered at the annual meeting of the Canadian Olympic Association in Toronto April 21-22. The COA will then make its recommendations to the International Olympic Association which meets in 1963 to choose the location of the 1968 games.

Set aside as a provincial park in 1920, Garibaldi has an area of 1,000 square miles. Whistler Mountain, in the northwest corner, rises to 7,118 feet. Close by Mount Garibaldi at 8,787 feet, Black Tusk, 7,598 and Castle Towers, 8,778.

Figuring Rossland, Fernie and Revelstoke out of contention because of their locations, GODA believes its site has suitability and accessibility for contestants, officials and spectators. They look also to the future—after the games—and a great potential for summer and winter recreation.

On its northern slope, Whistler provides a vertical drop of 5,000 feet, all suited to skiing, and almost all sheltered within a vast volcanic bowl. This would be the men's downhill run.

EXPENSIVE ITEMS

Other downhill and slalom courses would be found in the same area, culminating almost at the same finishing spot. The jump site is handy and the immediate valley below would have facilities for Nordic and ice events.

Cost estimates show the most expensive items would be dormitories, a minimum of 10 of different sizes, for 1,400 persons, $4,000,000; roads, bridges and parking, $1,140,000; and an enclosed arena for hockey and figure-skating events, $800,000.

Ian Ross of Vancouver, a Garibaldi engineer, says cost of the 7,000-capacity arena would be low because it would be a temporary fixture.

"Bleachers would be rented for the games, as the arena would be used for only a short period," added Ross.

In addition, three outdoor rinks would handle the remaining hockey and figure-skating events.

Other buildings include: A speed skating rink with artificial ice, capacity 10,000; administration building; 10-to-15-bed hospital; medical check-out building for athletes; rest cabins for officials, press and athletes; ski patrol stations; fire station; public rest rooms; and a press building.

A recreational building with two restaurants, one for press members and another for athletes, is also planned. A theatre would be included.

There would be two similar buildings for the public.

Included in cost of the dormitories, which would be at Squamish, is the park's central entrance. Others would travel back and forth to Whistler by helicopter or train.

Squamish is 30 miles from Vancouver and 35 miles from Whistler Mountain.

Since 1954, the average winter snowfall in the park has been about 12 feet. In 1960, more than six feet was on the ground in March.

HIGHWAY PROMISED

Bob Fortune, Garibaldi's weather expert, says if the area gets the Games he will recommend they be held in the last days of February and the first week of March.

Weather station figures show the Games would stand a 95-per-cent chance of good weather at that time.

Studies show that a proposed two-lane highway, together with the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, could move 13,000 persons to and from the park each hour. On peak days, 35,000 could be handled.

And, the provincial government has promised a highway into the park, whether or not the games are held there.

Of the $13,000,000 needed to develop Garibaldi for the Olympics, $3,500,000 would come from public enterprise. The remainder would be split between the federal and provincial governments.

The proposed Olympic village would be located at Alta Lake, at the base of Whistler Mountain.

Win Or Lose Castro Set To Be Toppled As Ruler

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Fidel Castro's days seem numbered as the ruler of Cuba, regardless of the success or failure of invading rebel forces.

If the invasion achieves one goal, the most important of all—it will spark a wave of defections from the ranks of Castro's

Castro's forces. This could mean Cuba might be spared a long civil war.

Cuban sources in Miami admit their success may hang on this factor more than any other. For them, in this respect, the invasion has been a calculated gamble. Should the number of defections from the ranks of Castro's supporters be far less than the rebels anticipate, the invasion could fail.

LOSING FAVOR

But this would not necessarily save Fidel himself. He is rapidly becoming a liability to the Communists who now dominate the island and it is far from improbable that the Communists themselves would feel it expedient to devise some means of getting rid of him.

Castro's noisy blundering, which in a period of two years has helped bring the island's economy to confused wreckage has got in the way of the Communists. If the Communists are not for anything, it is for their knack of organizing the power of a country and nailing it down.

Cuba has received Soviet-bloc help and this help now is on trial in the eyes of the rest of the world—particularly in the eyes of the rest of Latin America. For the Communists, it is important that Cuba get economically organized so that it can present a better face to the rest of Latin America as a revolt against the Yankees supported by a solicitous Moscow.

GIVING UP

But technicians from the Communist bloc who have been trying to whip the economy into some sort of sanity have been reported recently giving up the ghost, unable to cope with the whims and caprices of the "maximum leader."

A Cuba under Communist control—though not in name a Communist nation—might be much easier for Moscow to handle should Fidel disappear from the scene.

It could be arranged easily enough, too. The Communists are expert at removing those who have become unnecessary without themselves taking the blame.

ball back and forth. A floor below, leotard-clad women groan through muscle-toning exercises or practice ballet. In the fifth-floor staff lounge, a Russian and a Maltese glower in concentration over their chess game.

SINGERS TOO

Down the hall members of the UN singers crowd into the recreation club room for rehearsal under direction of Donald Reed, a voice teacher at New York's Juilliard School of Music. The singers specialize in folk songs in 15 languages.

There are 29 various clubs, extra-curricular groups encouraged by UN brass for staff morale purposes. They are devoted to such endeavors as art, badminton, bowling, dancing, golf, bridge, cricket, flying, jazz, tennis, stamp collecting, skiing, softball and an ancient Chinese variation of yoga.

There are at least 100 UN children, youngsters, born to couples who met and married after going to work for the UN. But statistics are against single girls who go to the UN looking for a husband. They outnumber single men three to one.

UN employees come at 9:30 a.m. EST to the 40-storey, glass-trussed tower beside the East River in Manhattan. Past the guards file political scientists, secretaries, lawyers, clerks, interpreters, editors, translators, technical experts, janitors, economists, doctors.

The delegate from Israel is speaking for an hour before the General Assembly. That means 327 hours of staff work, translating the speech into several languages, printing and distributing it.

He cites facts and figures on the population explosion in Asia, or maybe the rights of women in Tanganyika, or soil conditions in Afghanistan. The staff collected those facts and figures.

Nations may feud, but the employees of this polyglot agency work together amicably, everyone says so.

LANGUAGE A PROBLEM

But they have a language problem, even though all speak English.

"Nobody realizes the physical strain of having to speak a foreign language all the time, even though you may know the language well," says W. P. Barrett, chief of the technical assistance recruitment service. "And if you have no one to speak to in your native tongue at night, if you are single, then the strain is multiplied."

At the noon recess each day, the tower breaks out in an epidemic of good fellowship. On the 41st floor, a Japanese and an Israeli bat a ping pong

OTTAWA REPORT

Distinguished Visitors

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

This is to be a banner year for Very Important Visitors to our capital, with presidents and prime ministers clocking in and out on a closely meshed timetable.

But it fell to that universally liked M.P. from Orillia, Dr. P. B. Ryndak, to introduce to Parliament Hill the first queen of the year. This was pretty Patsy Playford, the Queen of Hearts of Midland District Collegiate, who enjoyed a personally conducted tour of the building, and a short visit in the important "Diplomatic Visitors' Gallery" in the House of Commons, with Mrs. P. B. Ryndak.

FROM ORILLIA

Another distinguished visitor here from Orillia, who was Mayor George McLean, who with his attractive wife brought their young son Peter here, during his Easter holidays from Ridley College at St. Catherine's.

I think it was Peter's grandfather whom Orillia sent here as its Liberal M.P. from 1935 to 1945; but Peter, I gather, is interested in pursuing another career in Ottawa, as a diplomat rather than as a politician. Canada would be well served by such a fine intelligent character in sundry embassies around the world.

If boys realised what an interesting and rewarding life our diplomatic service offers, more of our top scholars would scramble for the few vacancies each year.

WHAT PRICE TRUMPETS?

"The Unknown Celebrity" who is president of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, a certain Alphonsine Ouimet, spoke to a couple of service clubs back in November. Today I have received an extremely expensive produced printed booklet, on costly coated paper, bearing a large photograph of this employee of the Canadian taxpayers. On the cover is a beatnik drawing of five of that kind feather-bedding around a television camera. The booklet contains the text of those two speeches made to the service clubs. It was all designed, printed and distributed to the order of the CBC. It was of Your Preacher.

COSTLY VANITY

There is a story going around here that the Canadian taxpayers are being saved a lot of money by the vanity of women. Ten, fifteen, twenty years ago a number of applicants for jobs in the civil service perpetrated the little white lie which Woman has told through the ages: they underestimated their ages. Some did this from pride, others to get under the age-barrier of the job they sought.

But time has passed, and today many of their age for pensions. But it seems that pensions are payable in accordance with the youth they formerly claimed, rather than on account of the long life they have actually lived.

HELPED BY EDUCATION

The spread of literacy in darkest Africa offers many unexpected advantages. The story is being told here of a Canadian army detachment in the Congo; they walked into a clearing in the forest and found two Congolese standing in front of a missionary trussed in a stew-pot.

They had been to college and could read; their book was entitled "1,000 Ways to Enjoy order of the CBC. It was of Your Preacher."

FROM EARTH'S HEART

as basalt, believed to be 10 to 20 million years old. The experimental drilling, called Project Mohole, may provide clues to the origin of life and the earth. Bullard is a British oceanographer. Dr. Lill is in charge of the project. —(AP Wirephoto)

The newly formed Fishing Guides Association, made up of men from various walks of life, will be available to supply assistance to anglers unfamiliar with the island's fishing spots.

The service is described in a new booklet called Fishing Facts on Prince Edward Island, put out by the provincial travel bureau.

The booklet also offers some tips. For example: "Elmira—East Lake; North Lake. Note: Ask Al Cumming at North Lake if the fish are running. Ask Jim Harris at East Lake where to fish in the lake."

Antarctic Expedition Relics Throw Light On Explorers

By A.R. JENSEN

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (Reuters) — Relics of the Scott and Shackleton Antarctic expeditions which throw new light on the lives and activities of the explorers have been found by New Zealanders working in the Ross Sea dependency.

The workers, members of a department of scientific and industrial research party, were renovating the hut erected at Cape Royds by Sir Ernest Shackleton's 1908-9 expedition and another erected at Cape Evans by Captain R. F. Scott and his 1911-13 expedition. While the Cape Royds hut already had been cleared of ice and snow by previous working parties, the Cape Evans hut was two-thirds full of ice and compacted snow. The party removed 250 cubic yards with pick and shovel before leaving the hut clear and tidy and more or less as it was in Scott's time.

During their work, they found stores of food and clothing, particularly in the Cape Evans hut, which was occupied from 1915 to 1917 by a section of Shackleton's abortive trans-Antarctic expedition.

Wisecracks Tire Artists

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks of a modern artist gets tired of hearing:

"I may not know much about art—but I know what I like."

"At his last one-man show, the only picture he sold was one of the gallery hung upside down."

"They all look like they're hung upside down to me."

"He must be in his blue period. Nobody who paints the way he does couldn't be anything but blue."

"This one called Nude descending a Moonbeam isn't half bad, but tell me—which is the moonbeam and which is the nude?"

"Elsworth, I've got a commission for you at last. It's from the landlord. He says if you'll paint the other apartments in the building, he'll cancel our back rent."

"Never mind explaining to me what it is. Just tell me why it is."

"My dear, his work is simply too on province to be classed with the really avant garde, don't you think? What I mean is, he's sort of a frigid zone Gauguin substituting igloos for Tahitian huts."

IN WRONG JOB

"Of course his paintings lack a sense of perspective. If he had a real sense of perspective, he'd have become a plumber."

"Some call him a post-impressionist. Others say he's really a cubist at heart. But my girl friend used to date him, and she says he's strictly a square."

"Original? He isn't even aboriginal."

"Daddy, do I have to look at this man's paintings any more? They're making me see-sick."

Art Brings Recognition To Far Northern Eskimos

By JACK VAN DUSEN

Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Art is bringing world recognition—and the benefits of civilization—to the Eskimos of the far north community of Cape Dorset.

Eskimos who not long ago were living in igloos and tents now have new homes, rifles and full larders—thanks to an ancient art that has been made to pay.

"It's a darn good little community now," enthused Deputy Northern Affairs Minister Gordon Robertson after returning from a six-day visit to the isolated community on the southwest tip of Baffin Island.

Canada's northernmost art colony, the tiny settlement with a population of about 150 is produced by the northern art-ists, selling them for $15 to $75 each. It's only links with the outside world are aircraft and radio.

Mr. Robertson, also commissioner of the Northwest Territories Council found the Eskimos living in cozy frame homes, listening to expensive radios and cooking on stoves.

PICKS UP MOSCOW

The radios bring in Eskimo language programs from Greenland and — "unfortunately" — English — language programs from Moscow.

All in all, it's quite a happy state of affairs," he said.

Mr. Robertson said the Eskimos expressed gratification at the world-wide acceptance of their unique soap stone and seal skin prints that this year brought them some $65,000.

Twenty-seven dealers across Canada handled the 3,400 prints produced by the northern art-ists, selling them for $15 to $75 each. The northern affairs department has been handling sales for the West Baffin Eskimo Co-operative since it was formed in 1959. But the Eskimos are even taking over the sales operation now.

And to help them boost sales the department has offered to dealers a cut rate air fare from Timmins, Ont., to the island and back, complete with accommodation. They will pay $550 each and travel in parties of 12.

The Eskimos, inveterate carvers, had for generations been using stencil-like "drawings" on leather for decorations.

Pretty Easter Wedding In Rutland Catholic Church

Easter lilies and daffodils decorated Saint Theresa's Catholic Church in Rutland for the pretty wedding of Leona Victoria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Donhauser and James Phillip Leibel son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendel Leibel of Rutland which took place at 11 a.m. on April 3rd.

The Reverend Father F. L. Flynn officiated, and the soloist, Mrs. Reginald Martin of Kelowna, sang "On This Day O Beautiful Mother," "Panis Angelicus" and "Ave Maria," accompanied by Mrs. Back.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a princess style gown of white lace and silk organza with a full floor length skirt and a fitted bodice with long, lily point sleeves and a high neckline. Her headdress, a tiara of pearls, held a waist length veil of net, and she carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and white hyacinths.

The maid-of-honor was Miss Doreen Volk of Kelowna. Miss Eileen Donhauser of Rutland was bridesmaid, and the charming small flower girl was Ramona Seldner of Calgary. Duane Leibel of Rutland was ring bearer.

The bride's attendants were dressed alike in pretty gathered dresses of taffeta with overskirts of silk organza, round necklines and three-quarter length sleeves with small matching bows on their shoulders. The maid of honor was in mauve and the bridesmaid and flower girl were wearing yellow, with tiara headresses of matching flowers, and they carried Colonial bouquets of chrysanthemums.

Acting as best man was Mr. Joseph Boser of Rutland, and ushering was Mr. Ronald Schaad of Kelowna.

At the reception, held in the East Kelowna Hall, the bride's mother received in a black and white floral silk dress with mauve and black accessories complimented by a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother chose a dress of turquoise linen with a smart white hat and wore a corsage of pink and white carnations. Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. L. Bering and Mrs. A. Bering of Saint Catharines, Ontario, and Mr. and Mrs. B. Seldner of Calgary, Alberta. The two

GIRL GUIDES

Attending the Provincial Council of the Girl Guides Association annual meeting in Prince George last week were Mrs. A. F. G. Drake, Commissioner of District No. 2 and Mrs. R. B. Kerr, who accompanied here as delegate.

At the meeting Mrs. Drake was presented with the Medal of Merit, which is awarded for exceptionally good service in the Girl Guide movement in any field of Guiding.

Mrs. Drake's interest in the Scout and Guide movement began in a very nice way, by marrying a keen Scouter whose wide knowledge of Scouting and Girl Guiding led to the importance of the Scout and Guide training made it possible for his wife to give a great deal of time to Guiding.

First a member of the Guide Parents' Committee, then warranted as a Lieutenant of the 1st Rossland Guide Company in September, 1941, six months later Mrs. Drake was warranted as Captain of this company until 1945, after which for the last year of this period she was District Commissioner for Rossland.

For her honeymoon to Wenatchee, Washington, the bride changed to a pale turquoise sheath with a matching waist length jacket and black accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Leibel will reside in Rutland.

'Peg Coach Not Worried About Meeting Terriers

GALT, Ont. (CP) — Winnipeg Maroons and Galt Terriers, teams that almost had to beg for regular-season competition, meet here tonight in the first game of the Allan Cup finals. Bookmakers were having a difficult time trying to decide who's likely to win Canada's senior hockey laurels, taken last year by Chatham Maroons over Trail Smoke Eaters.

Winnipeg playing coach Gord Simpson put his men through a workout four hours after they stepped off a plane. "I know we have our work cut out for us," he said. "But if we work and skate well, we'll give a good account of ourselves. We know Galt must have a pretty good club. They wouldn't have the record that they have compiled if they didn't have something."

Royals To Hold So'ball Workout

Kelowna Royals softball team will hold a practice 6 o'clock tonight at the rear of Kelowna Junior High School. All persons interested in playing on the Senior B team are asked to turn out.

Golf Event Set Sunday

Kelowna Golf and Country Club today set its Johnston-Lefroy inter-club competition for Sunday, April 23 at the club's course.

The return match is to be played at Vernon the following Sunday.

In last week's play, Stan Matsuba and his team of Bill Kane, Tony Senger and Sherwin Campbell walked off with top honors in the Calcutta tourney with a low of 22 under par.

Other results were:
Second place, 19 under par: Captain, Al Anderson, Don McLeod, Pete Bulatovich, Wally Payne.
Third place, 18 under par: Captain, Bob Bailey, Bob Kenzie, Ron Birch-Jones, Bob Laurie.

Boston Marathon Takes Place Today

BOSTON (CP) — The wise ones were making it a race between 30-year-old Johnny Kelley of the United States and two flying Finns in the 65th running of the Boston marathon over 26 miles and 385 yards today.

Some 230 of the bunions and blister boys—including nine Canadian representatives—were entered for the classic but the list will, as usual, be considerably reduced from the original field of 251 by the time the starting gun goes at suburban Hopkinton.

The tousel-haired Kelley, only U.S. winner since 1946, is the local pride and joy representing the host Boston Athletic Association but he has a tough assignment since Finnish runners have won four of the last seven races, including the last two.

"Canada hasn't had a winner since Gerald Cote's last of four victories in 1946. Cote, who hails from St. Hyacinthe, Que., started the thousands of on-lookers by calling for a beer and a cigar as he raced to the 13.1-mile finish line in Boston."

The Canadian entries are: Regis Furel, Roland Michaud, Roland Bourdard and Gunnar Wahlberg, all of Montreal; Larry Puckett, Chris Picard and Paul Ballester, all of Toronto; and Smith of Hamilton, Ont., and Isaac Paul of Charlotte, N.C.

FINISHED SECOND

Terriers started in the cellar Dec. 28 and won 11 of 13 games to finish second behind Windsor Bulldogs. Galt beat Windsor, 4-1, in the final game of the season.

The western division took them into the fold, but it seemed the Allan Cup was out of sight because they would only be allowed to meet the division playoff winner if they finished no lower than fourth.

Maroons can't be called lack-lustre either—they have a play-off record of 10 wins in 15 games. And they had as rough a season as Galt, perhaps rougher.

They operated on an exhibition schedule most of the season before going into the cup playoffs. They beat Port Arthur Bearcats, Moose Jaw Pla-Mors and Nelson Maple Leafs to take the western crown.

Simpson said Monday he'll shuffle his forward lines because one regular is missing from each line. In action will be Reg Abbott, Lloyd Orris, Bob Leader, Tom Marshall, Lou Jozal, Jim MacKenzie, Ted Rendall and Ron Castiglione.

Veteran National Hockey League star Bill Juzda, 40, heads the defence with Sheldon Bloomer, Lou Mueller, Bill Johnson, Doug Munro and Simpson.

Goalie Gord Dibley was delayed because of the death of his father Monday.

Bucks Favored In 4th Tilt Tonight

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Portland Buckaroos may appear to be a flashy rookie in the Western Hockey League but the people who made them that have served long apprenticeships in the loop.

For five of them, the desire to beat out Vancouver Canucks in the playoffs has been the source of gnawing frustration for many seasons.

Tonight they may turn the trick. They hold a 2-1 lead over Vancouver in the best-of-five semi-final with the fourth game on Canucks ice.

The Buckaroos are heavy favorites to wrap the series up tonight and advance into the WHL final against Seattle Totems.

Five big reasons why they are favored are Gordie Fashway, Art Jones, Arlo Goodwin, Arnie Schmutz and Ron Matthews.

This quintet was the nucleus of the New Westminster Royals team which engaged in a fierce cross-town rivalry with Vancouver many seasons.

Royals had their greatest success in the early 50's, but it was the Canucks who finally bounced them from playoff action with startling consistency.

Two Big Bouts To Be Featured In Wrestling

Local grunt an' groan fans will see two top-flight matches Friday night when the Jaycees hold their second card of the season.

The event, set for 8:30 p.m., at Memorial Arena, will feature a grudge match between Mitsuo Arakawa and Joe Brunetti.

Brunetti, who together with his brother Guy held the Pacific Coast tag team championship, charged after their recent bout that Arakawa won by using unorthodox methods.

Arakawa has been tabbed one of the world's foremost experts on the Japanese claw hold.

The return card will also feature a match between The Outlaw, known only by appearance, and George Drake, labeled the California Comet.

Second bout will bring together Guy Brunetti and the "Blond Terror" Bob (the Viking) Morse. The Yankee will meet Freddie Baron in the final bout.

NELSON (CP) — Thirteen entries have been received so far for this year's midsummer bonspiel, committee members said Tuesday.

The bonspiel, to be held July 2-10, is expected to attract a record entry of more than 90 links.

About 200 persons will visit Nelson during the bonspiel with a Spokane, Washington-Coeur D'Alene, Idaho, caravan. They will be given an opportunity to throw a few rocks, the first time for most of them.

Another feature event will see reeves and mayors of West Kootenay compete on the last day of the event.

It is also planned to stage for the second year the Chahko-Mika feature with mining and lumbering teams from British Columbia and the U.S. Pacific Northwest competing in various competitions.

Twins Extend Win Skein To Take Full-Game Lead

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

It's too early to call Washington's move to Minnesota another "Milwaukee Miracle." But no matter how they fare in Boston today, the transplanted Twins must go home to Minnesota Thursday with a winning record.

By beating the Red Sox 3-2 Tuesday the Twins boosted their record to five victories in six starts and increased their first place lead in the American League to a full game over the idle Cleveland Indians.

Rain, snow and cold weather wiped out the rest of the AL schedule.

Perhaps the most encouraging thing about the Twins is that each day brings a different player in a starring role. Four shared that role Tuesday, including a couple of pitchers not named Camilo Pascual or Pedro Ramos.

PITCHERS BROUGHT JOY
The pitchers who brought a gleam of joy to manager Cookie roster. Kaat, 22, a southpaw making his first start of the season, and Bill Pleis, a rookie left-hander, only recently placed on the

When he weakened in the eighth, Cookie brought in Pleis, who squelched a Boston uprising and went on to hurl 1-2-3 innings of hitless ball.

Outfielders Jim Lemon and Lennie Green furnished the main batting support, getting six hits between them. Lemon walloped his first home run of the season. It came in the sixth and eventually proved to be the winning run. Green cracked four hits, scored the first run and sacrificed the second into scoring position.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Harold Johnson's first defence of his National Boxing Association light-heavyweight title looms more important every day to the money-starved Philadelphian.

The veteran of some 14 lean fistful years Monday meets Von Clay, a comparative youngster of three years as a pro fighter. The fight is slated for 15 rounds.

Johnson, 32, who won the NBA version of the 175-pound title by knocking out Jesse Bowdrey last February, could be on the threshold of universal recognition. If he beats Clay, this is what could happen:

Archie Moore, recognized as the light-heavy champ in New York and Massachusetts, is scheduled to defend against Giulio Rinaldi in New York June 10. But the promoters don't think Moore can make the weight and have asked Johnson's manager, Pat Oliveri, whether the NBA king would be a standby.

Oliveri says he's agreeable, providing Johnson gets the same contract as Moore—a reported $100,000 guarantee against 40 per cent of receipts and recognition in New York as champion.

Brown shrugged off the demonstration like the old pro he is. "Man, you get to expect this kind of thing when you're fighting away from home," he said. "After all, this isn't Houston."

Most observers agreed that Brown had all the class and deserved the decision after leaving the blood-soaked Charnley with nothing but his fighting heart.

Even two sets of swollen knuckles and the actions of spectators who jeered the obviously correct decision couldn't dampen the spirits of the Baton Rouge, La., Negro, who may pocket as much as $50,000 from the bout.

He'll go anywhere to fight, he said, and that might mean the Philippines, where he has an offer to defend against either Flash Elorde or Bert Somojai.

DECISION BOOED
Filipino promoter Lope Sarreal made the bid to Brown and his manager, Lou Viscusi, within minutes of the final bell Tuesday night — a bell that touched off an outburst of booing from the hometown crowd.

Viscusi made no commitment. Brawling broke out in some parts of the hall. A bottle conked one fan on the head. Police escorted referee Tommy Little, the sole official, from the ring through a line of jeering

Beavers, College Battle Tonight

TORONTO (CP) — Moncton Beavers will have a weight disadvantage and perhaps a measure of fatigue working against them tonight when they open the Eastern Canada Memorial Cup final.

It remains to be seen whether they can call on enough speed and shooting accuracy to whittle St. Michael's College Majors down to size.

The Maritime junior champions will complete the long plane trip from New Brunswick this afternoon only a few hours before skating out on the Maple Leaf Gardens ice to open the best-of-five series. The series winners will go west to battle for the Dominion crown against Winnipeg Rangers or Edmonton Oil Kings.

Beavers coach Ronnie Gaudet concedes the road will be rough but is not unduly deterred by the power of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A champions.

The Beavers, averaging only 137 pounds, will give away a good 10 pounds to the Majors who play in a league where six-footers are common and from which the National Hockey League draws recruits each year.

GUELPH, Ont. (CP) — Toronto St. Michael's College Majors Monday night won their first Ontario Hockey Association Junior A championship since 1947 when they defeated Guelph Royals 4-1 to take the best-of-seven series 4-2, with one game tied.

Jack Cole scored twice for the Majors with Andre Champagne and Larry Keenan adding singles. Jean Ratelle scored for Guelph.

The Majors now meet Moncton Beavers in the best-of-five Eastern Canada final opening Wednesday night in Toronto.

OHA President Ken McMillan presented the John Ross Robertson Memorial Trophy to St. Michael's captain Terry O'Malley after the game.

Reds Take Over NL Lead With Purkey's Big Wins

By JOE REICHLER
 Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Purkey apparently wasn't listening when Fred Hutchinson, the Cincinnati manager, declared at the season's start that the team's fate this year was in the hands of the young pitchers.

TORONTO (CP) — General managers of Canadian football league clubs got a reminder from commissioner G. Sydney Halter Tuesday that the kind of no-trade loophole that allowed Sam Etcheverry to jump the league must not be repeated.

The commissioner emphasized that under CFL law, a team cannot guarantee a player that he will not be traded—with or without his consent.

While certain clauses in a standard player contract may be changed, he said, others cannot — including those covering option, waiver and transfer.

Etcheverry, who had a no-trade agreement with Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four, claimed his contract was breached last fall when he was traded to Hamilton Tiger-Cats without his consent. He refused to report to Hamilton and later signed with St. Louis Cardinals of the National League.

Halter said after Tuesday's managers' meeting he felt the Canadian League was getting close to re-establishing the relationship with the NFL which existed during the latter years of the late commissioner Bert Bell's regime.

MORE GRADS
 There are 114,000 university graduates in Canada now compared with 68,000 a decade ago.

The veteran right-hander, who will be 31 next July, pitched his second straight victory Tuesday night, a 9-1 triumph over San Francisco, and boosted the Reds into first place in the National League.

It was Cincinnati's fourth success in six starts and Purkey's second complete game. The rest of the staff, which includes Jim O'Toole, Jay Hook, Jim Maloney and Joey Jay, all in their early 20's, have only one complete game among them.

REDS LEAD
 The Reds own a half game lead over St. Louis Cardinals, Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates, all tied for second place. Los Angeles dropped St. Louis out of a first place tie with a 5-4 night victory over the Cards and Pittsburgh moved up by beating the Chicago Cubs 5-3 in the only game played in daylight. Rain washed out the Milwaukee-Philadelphia game with the Braves leading 3-1 at the end of an inning and a half.

Purkey, Cincinnati's leading pitcher last season with a 17-11 record, permitted the Giants only six hits and lost his bid for a shutout when Willie Mays led off the last of the seventh with his second home run of the season.

Wally Post, Gene Freese and Gordon Coleman led a 10-hit attack on start. Billy Loos and two relievers Post got a double and two singles. Freese drove in three runs with a pair of single and Coleman clouted a three-run homer, his second of the campaign.

CRAIG WINS
 Home runs by Frank Howard, Wally Moon and Johnny Roseboro accounted for the first four Dodgers runs but the last and winning tally, in the sixth, was unearned. Pitcher Roger Craig, who went 6-2-3 innings and got the victory, opened the sixth with a single and moved to third when Bill White threw wild after fielding Maury Wills' sacrifice bunt. An infield out scored Craig.

Two Homers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ken Boyer slammed two home runs for St. Louis Tuesday night but three different Dodgers countered by hitting one apiece and Los Angeles defeated the Cardinals 5-4.

New Blood But No Pep

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Dear doctor: Several years ago my doctor gave me a blood transfusion for anemia. I haven't had any pep since.

Could I have received blood from someone who smokes or drinks?

MRS. G. G.

Dear Mrs. G.: Blood banks won't accept alcoholic or smoky blood. And remember that borrowed blood is "all used up" within four months.

Perhaps anemia is still robbing you of pep. Have your doctor check you and your blood before you start blaming someone else!

SWOLLEN LEGS

Dear Doctor: Although my internal organs check out healthy, I'm still bothered by a tense swollen leg.

What could be causing this?

MRS. C. L.

Dear Mrs. L.: Perhaps a blood clot in a large leg vein! These clots cause swollen, white legs. This "milk-leg" often develops after an operation or delivery.

Gravity can help drain the swelling if you prop the foot up on several pillows. A little massage can also help milk the swelling out of your milk leg!

KNEES, ARMS, HANDS, PAIN

Dear Doctor: Eight years ago I suffered painful shingles on my shoulder. Now my knees, arms and hands pain.

Could shingles still be inside my body?

MRS. D. L.

Dear Mrs. L.: Shingles doesn't last more than a few weeks, even when the pain lingers for years. The pain covers only the area originally infected by the shingles and so your trouble probably stems from something else.

Any doctor worth his shingle can tell you more after he's checked you over!

Dear Doctor: My son holds his breath until he faints. Is breathholding dangerous?

MRS. A. G.

Dear Mrs. G.: Breathholding tantrums hardly ever hurt healthy children. Once unconscious, they forget to hold their breath and come to on their own.

IGNORE HIM

Ignore your son when he comes to, and he'll soon give up these fruitless tantrums. He should have a medical check-up, even though it takes five or ten breath-holding tantrums to get him to the doctor's.

Dear Doctor: Can the calcium propionate added to bread or the various other preservatives added to canned and frozen foods cause cancer?

MISS B. H.

Dear Miss H.: The Pure Food and Drug Administration protects you against cancer-causing chemicals in food. Every preservative must be proven safe before it can be used.

RARELY HAPPENS

Canned and frozen foods rarely contain any preservative other than sugar, salt and gravity.

Officials are so concerned with your safety that they condemn an innocent cranberry crop back in 1959!

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

City Traffic Is Safest Highway Council Discovers

OTTAWA (CP) — City traffic may be more frustrating than country driving but it's safer, the Canadian Highway Safety Council says.

The council report on 1960 traffic accidents says only 15 per cent of the traffic fatalities occurred in cities of more than 40,000 population. There are 39 such cities and they hold 36 per cent of the national population.

Most of the traffic deaths occurred on highways and rural roads.

Among cities of more than 40,000, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., is rated the safest, having had its second consecutive fatality-free year in 1960.

Five cities had one death each last year: Saskatoon, Verdun, Que., Cornwall, Ont., Moncton, N.B., and Sydney, N.S.

The council says 3,273 persons died in traffic accidents last year, an increase of 42 over the previous year. Ontario, Quebec, and British Columbia, with 72 per cent of the nation's motor vehicles, had 72 per cent of the fatalities.

Five of the 39 cities listed in the urban survey are given special mention for showing marked reductions in traffic death rates over 1959 figures. They are: Moncton, Port Arthur, Ont., Cornwall, Kingston, Ont., and Sydney.

DEATHS DECREASED
Moncton dropped to one death from five, Port Arthur to five from eight, Cornwall to one from four, Kingston to three from six and Sydney to one from three.

Toronto and Montreal had the grimmest records. Toronto reported 120 deaths compared with 102 in 1959 and Montreal 128 against 126 the previous year.

But the industrial city of St. Catharines in southern Ontario was rated the worst at six deaths, triple its 1959 total.

Turning to the all-Canada picture, the council says the increase in traffic accidents is being halted in most areas. Prince Edward Island, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and British Columbia reported fewer fatal accidents in 1960.

It notes, however, that multiple death highway tragedies are on the increase and more injuries are occurring. The number of injured in 1960 accidents rose to 90,152 from 84,445 in 1959, a jump of more than six per cent.

Progress Hits Old Customs

VANCOUVER (CP)—One by one, a dozen residents of the little Chinese village of Hing Mee, near Macao, left their homes and moved to Vancouver.

Here they set up the Hing Me Society House where they have lived for 37 years. Sleeping as late as they want, cooking what they felt like eating.

But now their hope of remaining together until they die has been abandoned. The house, like others in Chinatown, is being expropriated in the city's multimillion-dollar slum clearance program. They must split up to find new homes.

South Africa is not only the largest producer of gold in the free world but also chrome and antimony.

CANADIAN BRIEFS

ANTI-SUICIDE BUREAU
REGINA (CP)—The Salvation Army plans to establish an anti-suicide bureau in Regina. Patterned after centres originated in Britain, it will be available by telephone to help persons who fear they are on the verge of committing suicide.

BUG INVASION
CALGARY (CP)—Glen Burgess, manager of an insect-control firm, says Calgary will face an invasion this summer of clover mites, tiny red bugs that are so unpredictable they may infest one home and ignore the next. They have already been reported in southwest Calgary.

CHILDREN'S ZOO
CALGARY (CP)—A new children's zoo, in which there is a pen where youngsters can play with smaller animals, has been opened here. Among its occupants is a myna bird said to be able to speak 30 words or phrases.

B.C. CHESS CHAMP
VANCOUVER (CP)—Dr. Elod Mackay, assistant professor of mathematics, has won the British Columbia chess championship for the fourth consecutive year. Canadian open champion in 1958, he is one of five Canadian chess masters.
